

When you get to the park and open the app this is what you will see.

When you get close to the question mark it will allow you to click it and this message will appear

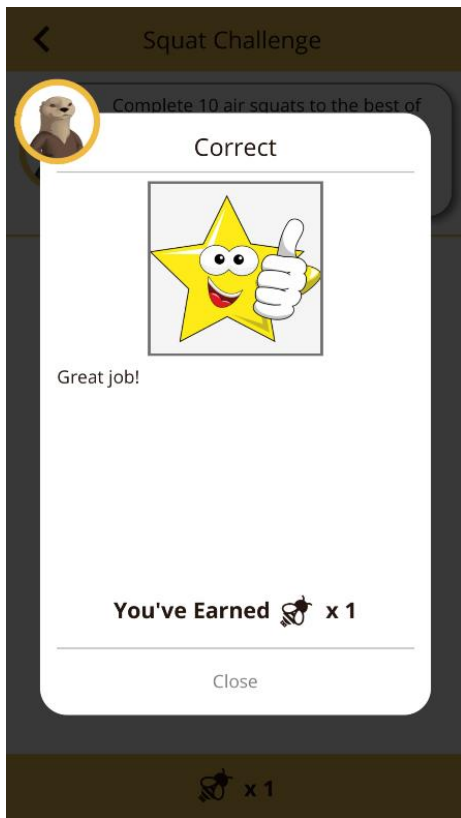

Did you complete 10 air squats?

Yes

No

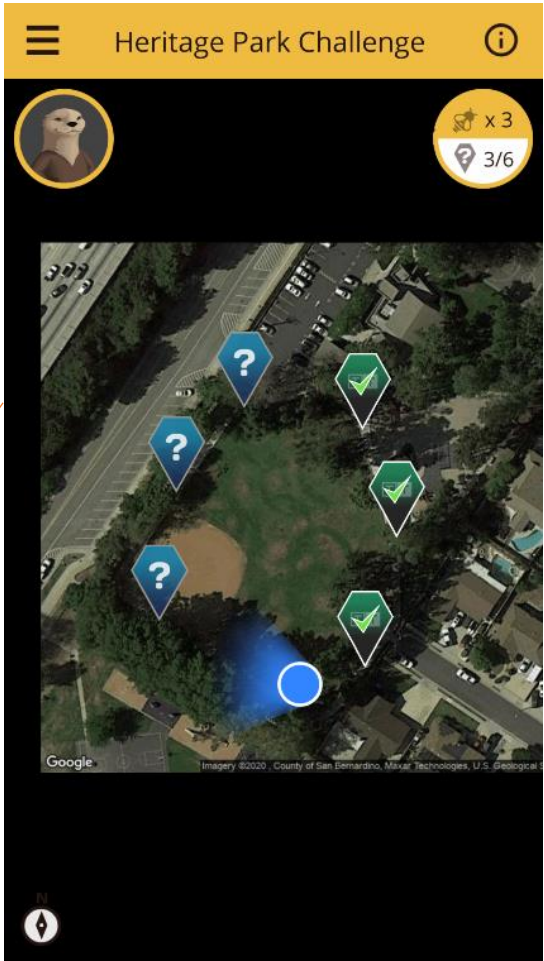

Next this question will appear and you will need to click YES to get credit for that challenge.

Once you click yes, this message will appear.

As you complete the challenges at the marked locations a green check mark will appear. The remaining question marks are the challenges that still need to be completed at this park.

After all the challenges are complete this message will appear. You will need to screenshot this message and email it in for Healthy DB July credit. Recreation@diamondbarca.gov
